

Woolworths menu ideas for your Christmas table ...

I was invited to the "Your first taste of our Christmas" party by Woolworths (aka the Mothership) and took my Mom along. From arrival, I knew it was going to be a good party ... the black runway carpet led us into the building, where we were whisked up by a waiting elevator to the Inner City Ideas Cartel building's roof top bar (What a great venue for a function!) in Waterkant Street, Cape Town. As the elevator door opened, we were greeted with a glass of bubbles - Yes please ! A second later, we were handed this delicious snack platter for 2 ...

Woolies had a beautiful display of their festive food on show ... some old favourites and some new items too.

They had Chef's cooking up a storm in a make shift kitchen downstairs, churning out the most delicious canapés, using the Woolies products on display and the results were delectably delicious !

Thank you Woolies, we had a ball !
